IN THE BASEBALL WORLD. EASTERN LEAGUE CLUBS BOUND TO-GETHER FOR PIVE YEARS.

New Organization in Hartford Admitted to Membership and a New Constitution Adopted Schedule Calls for 126 Games National League Season Opens To-day.

The Eastern League of Professional Baseball Clubs met in Room 15 of the Fifth Avenue Hotel yesterday afternoon and in four hours' time adopted an entirely new constitution, is sued its playing schedule for the season, bound the club owners together for a period of nve years, appointed its umpires and finished up a mass of other business. That such good me was made is due largely to the efforts of President Powers, who had everything ready for ratification when the meeting was called to der at 3:30 o'clock. The schedule prepared by him was adopted without a dissenting vote. After the session ended Powers said the League was never in better shape and the prospects for a successful season never

When business began the meeting showed these delegates present:

William Galt, Toronto; George A. O'Nell, Montreal George W. Sweeney, Rochester; G. McKeough and W. A. Davis, Syracuse Charles T. Shean, Spring. neld: William Barnie, Hartford; F. J. Leonard Worcester, and T. B. Corey, Providence.

The Hartford Baseball Association was formally admitted to membership to replace the old Hartford company. Charles Saley is President of the new organization and Barnie will manage the club.

President Powers announced that he had appointed the following staff of umpires for the season: Frank O'Laughlin, who served in the League last year; John T. Hunt, last year with the National League; J. J. Eagan, last year with the New England League, and T. C. Griffin, formerly manager of the Syracuse club. Powers will schedule the umpires from month to month in advance, so that the home ciubs may have the official's name on the score ciubs may have the official's name on the score caris.

There were complaints against one or two of the clubs that they had elevated the pitcher's box, which worked to the disadvantage of visiting teams, and it was voted to impose a fine of $25 for each offence on the complaint of a visiting club backed up by the umpire. The President was empowered to inflict punishment on any player in the League who misbehaves himself on a train or in a hotel or in any other way during the playing season.

It was voted that hereafter the annual meeting of the League shall be held in the city whose club wins the championship. On seven days' notice any club may in future hold a benefit game by paying the regular guarantee to the visiting club. This was done to accommodate one or two clubs which are occasionally asked to contribute to some charity. An entirely new constitution, embracing all the good features of the National, Western and old Lastern League laws, had been prepared by a committee and it was adopted section by section. That being disposed of, the club owners signed an agreement binding them together for five years. This was done to prevent any tampering by any other baseball league, and is a proof in itself that the National League wanted the Eastern League to take in Washington and Baltimore more than the latter organization wanted to take it those cities. It is also a guarantee that the National League will not be able to dispose of Washington and Baltimore to the Eastern League for at least five years.

It was voted that any club may admit women

timore to the Eastern League for at least five years.

It was voted that any club may admit women free to the grounds except on holidays and Saturdays, the idea being to encourage the attendance of the fair sex.

The official schedule is a credit to President Powers, who framed it. The championship season for 1900 opens at Providence, Worcester, Springfield and Hartford on Thursday, April 26, and closes on Saturday, Sept. 22, at Montreal, Toronto, Rochester and Syracuse. The schedule consists of 126 games for each club, 63 at home and 63 abroad. The Canadian holidays are distributed as follows: May 24—Queen's Birthday, Worcester at Toronto and Hartford at Montreal. July 2—Dominion Day, Rochester at Toronto and Syracuse at Montreal. Aug. 6—Civic holiday, Springfield at Toronto and Providence at Montreal. Sept. 3—Labor Day, Montreal at Toronto. Morning and alternoon games will be played on all these days.

Charlie Gettig, the New York pitcher who was farmed to the Chicago American League eam, has refused to go to the "Windy City," it dinstead has gone to his home in Highlandown, a suburb of Baltimore. Manager Ewing in Tuesday gave a ticket to Chicago to Gettig, where he was to report to Comiskey at once, set Charlie got off the train at Newark and mailed his ticket back to Freedman. To a riend whom he met at the station he declared in will never stand for "to be farmed to Chicago." Gettig says he signed a contract to play with the New York League team and reported cigo. Gettig says hasigned a contract to play with the New York League team and reported for duty ready to play. He says if he is not sood enough for New York he should be released. He contends that he has lived up to his part of the contract and if the New York club does not release him or live up to its part he will sue for his season's salary. "You may say," said Gettig, "there is one thing certain, and that is I will not go to Comiskey's aggresation."

This is the first time the League is consisted of eight clubs since 1891. Good idges predict that the pennant will be fought of next fall by Boston and Brooklyn, with a big in for St Louis, Philadelphia or Pittsburg, it of which have strong teams. The New Yorks to more formidable than hast year, when they mished down among the tail enders in a welve-club circuit, but they are not rated high a the predictions of those who know what real asseball means in the present fast company.

has been forced into retirement by the magnates, so that the protest of the New York Club is causing comment. Hurst was kept out of the game entirely last year by certain influences and was reinstated at the meeting last month by a vote of the delegates. As an umpire and referee of boxing matches Hurst has always enjoyed a widespread popularity.

W. F. Dahlen, shortstop of the Brooklyn club, was last night presented with a handsome silver loving cup by the Pierrepont Club of the borough. The presentation, which was a complete surprise to Dahlen, took place at the Pierrepont House, in Montague street, and was accompanied with the best wishes of the donors for the success of the club in the race for the pennant, which begins to-day.

Indianapolis, April 18.—Mrs. Rusie, wife of the crack pitcher of the New York team, to-day filed suit for divorce, charging that her husband is an habitual drunkard, that he has frequently threatened to kill her and has at times been cruel and inhumane in his treatment of her. She asks for $5,000 alimony and $500 with which to prosecute her suit and for a restraining order to prevent Rusie from disposing of his property. She says that he receives $2,000 a year from the New York club and has property valued at $6,000. Rusie is believed to be still here, though he told friends last night that he intended to return to New York to-lay and pitch the opening game for the club to-morrow.

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—It is evident that the Philadelphia officials and Delahanty and Lajole have come to terms. The two players who have been causing Col. Rogers all kinds of mental perturbation left with the club for Boston to-night. Both sides to the controversy were extremely reticent. Manager Shettsline said that terms satisfactory to both had been arranged, and that although the players had not yet signed they would immediately upon their return to Philadelphia. Neither Delahanty nor Lajole would talk, but from their demeanor it was evident that they were feeling on pretty good terms with themselves. From an unofficial source it is learned that a compromise between the players and the management was effected, the difference between the two being split. There was a big crowd at Germantown Junction when the boys took the train for Boston to-night. Another sensation was sprung this afternoon by the appearance of McGraw at Col. Rogers's office. Following so closely upon the visit of Manager Hanlon it was thought that "there was something doing" looking to the transfer of McGraw to this city. This was not denied by either Col. Rogers or McGraw, although the latter maintained that he was here solely for the purpose of ascertaining from Col. Rogers sid that he would use his good offices in the matter and if possible secure the desired release from St. Louis. Col. Rogers said that he would use his good offices in the matter and if possible secure the desired release from Wholes and captain the Phillies.

contract, he will not take part in a game."

St. Louis, April 18.—Frank De Hass Robison yesterday morning wired Robinson and McGraw of Baltimore that he would give a handsome increase in salary for the season 1900, sufficient to enable them to pay the expense of a man to look after their caloon business, provided they would report at St. Louis by Saturday to play with Tebeau's Perfectos. Mr. Robison received a despatch in response to his telegram, which was practically a refusal, though not in so many words. In effect it was, "Your offer is received. It is all that could be desired. Money no object will be in Atlantic City to-morrow on another business proposition." Mr. Robison says that he has done his best to secure these players. If they do not come to St. Louis, they certainly will not be permitted to play with any other club.

Joe Walcott, who is shortly to become a bontface, is likely to also become invoived in a litigation if he does not change the name of his prospective place. After Walcott defeated Joe Choynski he purchased, in conjunction with a friend, a café in Thirty-first street. The building, at the time, was occupied by a colored club known as the "Waldorf Social." This organization, which has been in vogue for many years, was considered to be the swellest colored club in the Tenderloin.

Last year the club created a good deal of talk among the upper colored set by the magnitude of its recention to Bobby Dobba upon the latter's victorious return from England. But since then the club's reputation has been on the decline. When Walcott became a rart owner recently he decided to retain its old name. Objections were made to this and Walcott has been notified to use some other title. Joe has the matter under consideration and may call the place "Hotel de Walcott" in order to avoid legal proceedings. Chovnski he purchased, in conjunction with a McCoy and Jeffries Come to an Understanding.

There is every possible chance of a match being arranged between Kid McCoy and Jim Jeffries. The Kid had an appointment with Billy Brady yesterday, and the two reached some understanding regarding a battle. Meloy said that while, for the present, he would insist that the articles covering the money question be drawn up to his liking, he would fight the champion on a basis of 75 and 25 per cent, should he whip Sharkey whom he is now matched to fight. McCoy wanted Jeffries to meet him for 05 and 35 per cent, of the purse, but the champion held out for the other ratio. In the meantime the forfeit of $2,500 which McCoy posted with Al Smith will remain up indefinitely for any of the other heavy-weights to cover. Billy Brady yesterday, and the two reached

The victory of Matty Matthews over "Mysterious" Billy Smith at the Broadway A. C. terious" Billy Smith at the Broadway A. C. Tuesday nightwas widely discussed in sporting circles yesterday. Many of those who witnessed the combat are of the opinion that Matthews would be a formidable opponent for Joe Walcott. Tom O'Rourke had a talk with Matthews's manager, Johnny Dunn, yesterday and a match was discussed. Dunn promised to lot O Rourke know in a few days and if everything is satisfactory articles will be signed. Matthews has received an offer to go to Denver and fight "Kid" Parker.

The final game in the pool tournament of the Knickerbocker A. C. was played last night. William Fraiey and A. Beck with were the contestants. Fraiey won by a score of 125 to 88 and took first prize. Richard Auerbach finished second. Beckwith third and Gray and Gardner are tied for fourth piace.

Alredo De Oro and Jerome Keough will begin their championship pool match at Maurice Dalv's academy to-night. The contest will be an important one, especially to De Oro. If he wins he becomes the absolute owner of the championship emblem, the time limit for him to defend it having expired a few days ago. The match, however, was made some time ago, and by mutual agreement the trophy was to be included with the stakes, even if the date agreed upon for playing the match fell after the expiration of the time limit. If Keough wins De Oro will have to win the emblem back and hold it a year against all comers in order to play 600 balls, continuous nool, 200 balls a night for three nights. De Oro, the present champion, is a slight favorite in the betting. Knickerbocker A. C. was played last night.

FORM PLAYERS IN LINE FIVE FAVORITES REWARD THEIR FOLLOWERS AT AQUEDUCT.

-Mechanus Proves too Fast for Boney Boy at the Weights in the Shorter Dash Rinalde the Only Successful Outsider The racegoers of New York are apparently impervious to the weather when sufficient incentive is furnished to draw them from winter cover and they flocked to Aqueduct yesterday in such numbers that between three and four thousand persons were marking up their cards in front of the stand before the first bugle sounded. Drizzle from above, misty drifts from Jamaica Bay and a track which gravitated between sticky and sloppy seemed to have no deterrent effect and the sport went ahead with a good imitation of the boom which signalized opening day. Owners and trainers were much more sensitive to the adverse surroundings than were the "regulars." and the blue pencil played havoe with the numerical strength of two races. Still, good odds were on offer throughout, and form players had figured the possibilities down so fine that when they got through only one race stood to the credit of the bookmakers. The balance of the card went to well-played favorites, making the unusual total of nine successful public choices out of the twelve races run in the past

Lambkin started the ball rolling merrily by taking the opening dash for two-year-olds Dandy Boy forced him to a drive, but was half a length off at the wire. Then came an inter-esting handlesp, in which Mechanus carried a lot of "beef an' " money to the front by the safe margin of four lengths. Carbuncle was the next good thing and he went through with ease. Only three candidates turned out for the distance handicap, fourth on the card, but distance handicap, fourth on the card, but they furnished a rare contest. Wait Not just catching Ten Candles in time to win by a head, while knight of the Garter was only a neck away. All three were backed, but Wait Not oarried the weight of money and his victory was hailed with wild enthusiasm.

Billy Oliver sprung one of his periodical surprises in the fifth race and pulled the ring out of a slough of despond. McJoynt put up such another ride as he showed on Lambkin and forced the Leonatus gelding up in time to win by a head. Domino's son, Unmasked, graduated from the maiden class in the last race of the day. pany. T. H. Williamson, secretary of the Athletic Association of the Twelfth Regiment, has conceived the idea of organizing a company of the regiment to be entirely made up of athletes. The new company will be open to those anxtous to shine in any branch of sport and wishing to combine their athletic tendencies with the ordinary duties of a soldier.

Full dress and fatigue uniform and all equipments will be presented to each member, the ments will be presented to each member, the only expense being the company dues of 25 cents a month. The regiment now has a first-class gymnastum, shower baths, bowling allys, pool tables and all the other facilities of an athletic club. In the drill room tennis, backetball and indoor baseball can be played every night in the week.

$7,800 FOR A PARK HORSE.

The Turk. All records for the sale of high steppers were left in the shade last night at the American Spirited Finish in the Distance Handica; Horse Exchange when M. H. Tichenor's docktailed trotters from Chicago passed under the hammer of W. D. Grand. Lot 3 in the catalogue was a bay gelding called The Turk, by a son of Alexander's Belmont. He proved to be a park horse of rare beauty, high quality and brilliant action, and there was spirited bidding among the horse fanciers when the whitefaced, white-footed stepper had been put through his paces on the miniature track. Thomas W. Lawson of Boston and C. F. Kimball of Chicago were the contending bidders, the latter getting the handsome animal for $7,800. This is probably the nighest price ever paid for a park horse at public or private sale. About three years ago Eben D. Jordan of Boston paid $4,000 for Leader the Scotchman, and something like seven years ago A. H. Moore of Philadelphia gave $5,000 for Magnum, while Sundown brought at the E. D. Morgan sale in 1892 only a few hundred dollars less than the sum paid for The Turk last night. Mr. Kimball bought

THE CHERRY DIAMOND IN FRONT. Metropolitan Championships.

At the first indoor championships of the Metropolitan Association of the A. A. U., held last night, the cherry diamond of the Knickerbocker A. C. was carried to the front with a frequency that reminded the spectators of the days when the old Manhattan A. C. made a practice of taking the rival New York A. C. into The games took place in the big armory of Heyward avenues, where an eight-lap track and straightaway sprint course provided idea conditions for racing. The Knickerbocker athletes won six of the eleven events on the ogramme and scored more points than all e other clubs combined.

Eight Schools Represented Among the Starters Some Fine Play Under Discomforting Weather Conditions-Harry Vardon in a Match on the Wollaston Country Club Links. Rain and a high wind were the disagreeable conditions yesterday that the young golfers had to face at the Garden City Golf Club in the preliminary round of the second annual Interscholastic Golf tournament under the auspices of Cutler School. There were eight schools represented, not as many as had been expected, for except the home school, St. Paul's, the Long Island schools held aloof in anticipation of the tournament of their own on May 3, over the same links. The schoolboy golfers and their friends were the guests of the Garden City Golf Club.

The feature of the day was the fine score made by Harry Hollins, Jr., in the qualifying round. The old first and eighteenth holes were used, but on all the other holes the tees had been set back and new bunkers put in to be ready for the amateur championship in July. Hollins's score may be regarded as a better performance than the 79 made by J. G. Averill in the Intercollegiate tournament last fall. which had previously been the amateur record. Par golf for the new course when it is all ready has been fixed at 76. A bet of $1,000 to $500 has been fixed at 76. A bet of $1,000 to $500 has been posted at the clubhouse that no member will make that score within a year. Judging by Hollins's work yesterday the layer of the olds stands a good chance of losing his wager. There were no "dark horses" to rush to the front and upset calculations, for the boys played up to their past records. The survivors included all the boys who have reputations at open tournaments. The quality of the golfing was of a high order and it demonstrated that the boys possess style and skill in a marked degree. Murphy, who meets Mailouf to-day, made his out holes yesterday in splendid golfing when he put out Smith, doing them in 3, 4, 4, 6, 4, 3, 4, 5, 4, a total of 37. Douglas did a 30 on these holes at match play and Hollins, Jr., a 41. Winston took 47. Besides the Murphy and Mallouf match the pairing in the second round this morning will be Douglas and Seeley, Hollins and Reinhart and Hull and Winston. Match Play, First Round-Murphy beat Smith by 8 up and 6 to play; Mallouf beat Sedewick by 5 up and 4 to play; Mallouf beat Parsons by 5 up and 3 to play; Seeley beat Mehl by 4 up and 2 to play; Hollins beat Wyle by 8 up and 6 to play; Reinhart beat Richmond by 1 up; Hull beat Acosta by 6 up and 5 to play; Winston beat Proal by 2 up and 1 to play.

Boston, April 18.—Harry Vardon, the English open goif champion, showed the local enthusiasts how the game is played professionally on the new nine-hole links of the Wollaston Golf Club at Montciair to-day. In the forenoon he played the "best bail" of two professionals, Arthur Fenn of Poland Springs, and Robert Stronner of Nassau, winning by a score of 3 up and 2 to play, before a hundred or so spectators. This afternoon he added to his laurels by defeating Alex Campbell, the Brookline Country Club professional, and C. L. Bremer, one of the best local amateurs, by the score of 1 up. It was not an ideal day for golf, an almost continual rain spoiling the greens and a high wind making accuracy practically impossible. Despite this, the play was at times remarkable. Vardon made a new record of 80 for the course, which is two strokes less than the best previous one. His play was a revelation to the gallery which followed the players over the links. He invariably outdrove his opponents and played wonderfully, considering the conditions. Fenn was off in his putting and Stronner frequently missed the hole. putting and Stronner frequently missed the hole.

Vardon's first ball in the morning match did not look well. It was a good long fron pitch, but the wind carried it to the left of the green and into the pond beyond the bunker. He dropped a new bail and this time pitched on to the green straight as a die. Fenn drove to the right of the green, recovered beautifully from a bad lie and was down in 3, winning the hole. The next two holes were halved, but the fourth went to Vardon in a stroke less than bogey. On this hole Vardon carried into the bunker from the tee, pitched dead and holed out in 3. Vardon retained this lead of one hole to the end of the first round. Vardon increased his lead as he went on. At the third hole of the second round he made a thirty-foot put for three. At the fourth hole he repeated his trick of driving in the bunker from the tee. The match was of a at the sixteenth hole, when Vardon was 3 up. The cards:

The cards:

During the three-day open tournament of the Baltusrol Golf Club, May 30, 31 and June 2, there will be a best ball match between pairs made up of a professional and an amateur from each club. This will be a novel form of competition and should bring out some very low seering.

Hor Springs, Va., April 18.—John P. Cheney of South Manchester, Conn., broke the record here to-day by going around in 34. He is decidedly the best golfer here and his work to-day only equalled his nine-hole play on the 10th, when ne made eighteen holes in 34 and 38 respectively, which established a new eighteen-hole record for amateurs of 73, The former record was made last October by H. M. Forest of Philadelphia, being 35 and 39, total, 74. The rain of several dary past will put the turf in excellent condition for the semi-annual tournament next week. NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN.

Split on Account of Racing Likely in Canada -A Warning to "Armless Wonders." It now seems somewhat more than probable that there will be trouble in the Canadian provinces this spring, to say nothing of the Balkans, and all on account of the question of races. The trouble will be similar to that which occurred in the States last year between the L. A. W. and the N. C. A. about racing, and it looks as if a new organization is likely to secode and seize the tiller in the Dominion the same as the N. C. A. did here.

There was trouble in the provinces north of the St. Lawrence last summer and a definite step in opposition to the Canadian Wheelmen's Association was taken by the influential factors who sympathized with the N. C. A. The withdrawal of the L. A. W. from the racing field smoothed things over, but the upheaval of the International Association has revived it.

The C. W. A. delegates to the I. C. A. were supporters of Sturmey and antagonistic to the N. C. A., and since the N. C. A. of America has declared its allegiance to the new international body, which is stronger at the outset than the old organization, it has become evident that the Dominion, in order to get the crack American riders must have the C. W. A. forswear the English delegates of the I. C. A. and join forces with the I. C. U., or a new Canadian body will be formed that will do so. The indications at present are that the N. C. A. movement, which originally was bookpoohed as a weak secession, will before long cause a reorganization of all the bodies in the world that control cycling, with the result of a harmonious breaking away from tradition and the adoption of up-to-date methods. of the International Association has revived it.

"Armless wonders," as Roundsman John Collins of the Brooklyn squad of bleyele police derisively dubs those riders who show off by pedalling along without either hand on the steering bar, are in for trouble this season. The roundsman in a talk with a BUN reporter yesterday said that he now had four new and excellent men on the Coney Island paths who would give sharp attention to the "armless wonders" as well as the scorchers. According to Roundsman Collins there is a decided improvement in the class of riders this year. As he puts it: "There are not so many of those cheap harum-scarum riders with cheap wheels and ten cents' worth of common sense, and the good people are coming back strong."

The Sea Side men, however, are going ahead with arrangements for the contest between Corbets and Jeffries as if nothing had happened. Tickets are already on sale and there is said to be good demand. Tom O'Rourke says that the De good demand. The of nour easy tax the Police Commissioners are sure to reconsider their action of last Monday and grant a permit to the club. Billy Brady maintains the same stand as he did on Tuesday. He says that if the Sea Side people cannot pull off the mill on the day scheduled, the Westchester club has a perfect right to step in and hold the fight at Tuckahoe.

In regard to the statement made by Brady perfect right to step in and hold the fight at Tuckahoe.

In regard to the statement made by Brady that he would only allow a few days to the Sea Si le Club to reach some definite conclusion. O'Rourke said:

"Jeffries and Corbett have agreed to fight on May II, and I will endeavor to keep them to their contract. The club will live up to its agreement. If the club tails to bring off the mill we will forfeit $2,500. If Brady does not keep his word with me why he will have to forfeit $2,500."

Former champion Jim Corbett slipped into town quietly from Lakewood yesterday. In a talk with THE SUN reporter, Corbett said:

"The action of the Police Commissioners in refusing a license to the club at Consy Island was rather disappointing to me, but I think everything will come out all right. It would be a bitter set-back if I should be unable to meet Jeffries, for I honestly think I can whip him. I am in grand shape now, as you can see. As to strength and endurance, I feel as chipper and young as I did when I won the championship from John L. Sullivan. I can hit harder, too, and I fancy I am just as clever. I am it condition to fight to-morrow, if necessary, and if Jeffries is satisfied, I will agree to meet him on April 30."
